Furthermore, I was introduced to the healthcare industry, its challenges, and how our company is contributing to improving healthcare outcomes.

Onboarding Process:

During my first few days, I completed the company's onboarding process, which included orientation sessions, filling out paperwork, and getting my accounts set up. I was able to learn about the company's values, culture, and mission, as well as meet with various teams and departments.

Understanding US Healthcare Facilities:

To better understand the US healthcare industry, I spent time researching the current state of healthcare facilities, as well as the issues that providers face when it comes to patient care and data management.
